Here, the profile tab is active and the search tab is greyed out.

The display picture is enlarged, and (up to) three small thumbnails of other uploaded photos are shown.

The four icons stand for : start Chat, view full profile, send message, add to favorites. An information bubble will be shown when a cursor goes over each icon.

A portion of the user criteria are shown in the profile summary, as well as the 'about me' section.

The gallery tab is now displayed as active.

The selected result had a double outline around it to let the user know where he is in the search.

The relevance bar is also underneath the profile picture, for consistency.

Each profile displays the age, location and last time online, just like the second information line in the regular view.
